PRESERVATION AND CULTIVATION OF FISH.

We copy from the New York "Weekly" the following. It shows the interest taken by the New England States on this important matter. The Susquehanna and its tributaries can furnish more of the finny tribe than all the streams of New England combined, yet our people leave their streams year after year to be pirated by fish baskets, thereby rendering nugatory the utmost endeavors of those who are trying to bring back this delicious luxury to our doors. It is to be hoped that in the coming year all such obstructions shall be put an end to.

A society has been formed at Greenfield, Mass., to prevent the extermination of trout in the neighboring streams. Last week a meeting was held at Boston under the auspices of the Board of Fish Commissioners to consider the subject of the restoration and propagation of fish in the rivers from which they have been excluded by dams.—Hon. Harry Jewell, Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, presided. Prof. Agassiz stated that the subject was one whose importance could not be over-estimated. It was a matter affecting coming generations, and one which should occupy the attention of our statesmen.

"His words, he said, might seem extravagant, but what is now advocated by the Fish Commissions stands in the same relation as the first attempts stood to domesticate bulls and raise cattle. How could the population of this continent go on if we had no artificial production of food? Was it ever considered, he asked, that the whole population of this country, without exception, are daily fed by substances all of which are raised artificially? We live upon beef or fowl, and upon vegetables and fruit, no one kind of which is indigenous to this continent. All were brought from the old world to be raised artificially here, and more than that, all have died out in their wild state. What is now proposed by the commissioners is to add one kind of this supply of food for our benefit, that man may feed on a greater variety. Here he said he touched upon a point which was equally important. It is a variety of food taken in daily to build up the human frame, to cultivate the brain, and develope the faculties, which is advancing civilization. The more the variety of food and better adapted to these purposes, the higher our civilization."

He further asserted that the cultivation of fish could and should be made as profitable as cattle, fruit, or wheat raising, or any other "branch of agriculture." The "time will come when every man who has water on his ground will raise fish for his own table, as he now raises fruit." The general and State governments should take hold of this subject, and give it all the encouragement and assistance required. The professor also argued that sanitary reasons should impel us to the general cultivation of fish.

"If there is one thing of which the American people have a right to complain, it is of the uniformity of their diet. Men are most healthy and more enduring in proportion as they vary their diet and take proper time to eat, to chew their food. No creature in the universe requires such a variety of food as man. The fish enters largely into the requisites of the system. It is a kind of food which refreshes the system, especially after intellectual fatigue. There is no other article of food that supplies the waste of the head so thoroughly as fish diet, and the evidence of it is in the fact that all the inhabitants of the sea-shore the world over, are the brighter population of the country. Fish contains phosphorus to a large extent, a chemical element which the brain requires for growth and health. He would not say that an exclusive use of fish would make a blockhead a wise man, but that the brain should not be wanting is one of its essential elements."

Col. Theodore Lyman, of the New England Commissioners of River Fisheries, gave an account of the various kinds of fish which once inhabited the inland streams, and explained how they could be restored. He recommended the introduction of black bass, and exhibited the model of the "Foster fishway" to enable fish to pass over river dams at the season of the year when they were formerly accustomed to ascend from the sea in order to deposit their spawn. Col. Lyman also exhibited a model of the plan pursued by Seth Green, of Munford, New York, for restocking fish. * * * He (Mr. G.) last year turned over fifty millions of shad into the Connecticut River, beside realizing $10,000 from the sale of fish and spawn. * * * Boston has set an example in this matter which should be followed all over the country. The fish have in late years been rapidly disappearing from our streams before the encroachments of civilization, and the mill-dams and fatal tan-bark threaten to ere long deprive us altogether of the diet which Prof. Agassiz assures us is so requisite for the "growth and health of the brain." Judging from the success which has attended Mr. Green's endeavors, parties in this State could raise fish with great profit for the New York market. We hear that an enterprise of this kind is soon to be started in New Jersey.

"I'LL TAKE WHAT FATHER TAKES."

"What will you take to drink?" asked a waiter of a young lad who, for the first time, accompanied his father to a public dinner. Uncertain what to say, and feeling sure that he could not do wrong if he followed his father's example, he replied, "I'll take what father takes."

The answer reached his father's ear, and instantly the full responsibility of his position flashed upon him. If he said, "I'll take ale," as he had always said before, his son would take it also, and then? And the father shuddered, as the history of several young men who, once promising as his own bright lad, had been ruined by drink, started up in solemn warning before him.—Should his hopes also be blasted and that open faced, noble lad become a burden and curse, as they had become? But for strong drink, they would have been active, earnest, and prosperous men; and if it could work such ruin upon them, was his own lad safe? Quicker than lightning these thoughts passed through his mind, and in a moment the decision was made. "If the boy falls, he shall not have me to blame;" and then in tones tremulous with emotion, to the astonishment of those who knew him, he said, "Waiter, I'll take water;" and from that day to this, strong drink has been banished from that man's table and from that man's home.

That young lad, in this brief utterance, was really the representative of the generation to which he belongs.—God has so decreed it, that the father is the highest authority in the world to his child. Who does not know that "My father said so," is the end of all controversy with the little ones around us? Who does not see the parent's tones, and gait, and manners reproduced continually in the children, whose nature is now "soft as wax to receive an impression, and rigid as marble to retain it;" and who watch with a quick and imitating eye those who, to them, are God's vicegerents?

Would that we could impress upon the fathers and mothers of this country the solemn fact, that the future character of the children is being formed by them. That if they are trained up in the way they should go, when they are old they will not depart from it. But if they become vain, sensual, and degraded, the seeds will have been deposited and the bias given in the early morning of their lives. If we teach them that strong drink is a good creature of God, they will believe us; and when depending upon our judgment and truth, they shall have taken it, and it shall have shown itself to be the devil's master piece, and have bitten, and crushed, and dragged them down to ruin, we may weep and pray as we please—the blame will be our own, and we must not accuse God, or cast reflection upon the gospel. We shall have sown to the flesh, and of the flesh have reaped corruption. God will have visited the sins of our fathers upon the children. They only "took what their fathers took." If, on the other hand, we banish the fiend when their young and trusting hearts are most open to our teaching, we tell them that wine is a mocker, that strong drink is raging, and warn them that no serpent is so dangerous, no adder so much to be dreaded, we shall be co-workers with an all-merciful and wise God, who to preserve them from taking it, has sent them into the world with a loathing of its very taste. Our children will believe us. They will grow up with their natural instinct fortified by our instruction and example. They will be preserved from the poisonus influence of the destroyer.—There will be a bridgeless gulf between them and the companions who are most likely to lead them into the ways of sin. They will be preserved from habits of extravagance and waste.—They will have no companions but those who walk in the ways of God; no employment for their spare time but that which is elevating and purifying, and when we pass to our reward, they will rise up and call us blessed, for they "took what their fathers took."

GRANT AND THE RADICALS.

When the Radical party deserted the plan of restoration adopted by Presidents Lincoln and Johnson, and a separation ensued between Mr. Johnson and his party, General Grant appeared to side with the President. He stood beside the President when the latter received and replied to the Committee from the Philadelphia Convention of August 14th, 1866. He accompanied the President in his memorable electioneering tour to Chicago in the same year.—And when the President removed Stanton, General Grant accepted the appointment of Secretary ad interim, as every one thought, in order to facilitate a change.

The testimony of General Grant before the Impeachment Committee moreover indicates that he approved the programme of Messrs. Lincoln and Johnson; and his celebrated report upon the condition of the Southern people, made shortly after the close of the war, exhibits a feeling of kindness for them which is utterly irreconcileable with a support of the Congressional scheme of destruction.

How, then, does it happen that Gen. Grant has deserted the President, and given his adhesion to the abominable plan of Negro Reconstruction? Has he deliberately deceived the people for three years, or has he been corrupted by the promise of the Radical nomination for the Presidency? His correspondence with the President about the removal of Stanton betrays a desire to create the impression that he was deceiving the President and people. But in either aspect of his course, we wish the Radicals joy of their candidate.—If he has deliberately deceived the American people for three long years, and perfidiously betrayed them at the end of that time, the Radicals cannot expect him to keep better faith with them than with others. If he has been corrupted by the promise of office, the Radicals may reckon on his deserting them as soon as he finds their party losing the power to confer office.

The willingness of the Radicals to accept a candidate of Grant's equivocal antecedents, exhibits their fear and desperation. A year ago they would have disdained to support any less pronounced candidate than Chase, Wade, or one of that stamp. Now, they grasp at the candidate who promises to afford them support in the hour of their extremity and danger. And they do this in the face of their experience of Andrew Johnson and two of his predecessors.

But they flatter themselves that Impeachment and the Tenure of Office Act will secure the President, whoever he may be. The Impeachment of Mr. Johnson is not only intended as a punishment for him, but as a warning to Grant, should he be elected. And after Mr. Wade has distributed the patronage of the Government, the Tenure of Office Act will prevent Grant or any one else from disturbing his arrangements. The new President will find it his principal business to draw his salary, and expend it in entertaining his constituents.

The Radicals do not want Grant as the pilot, but as the figure-head of the party. They propose to use him as a decoy to catch votes. If under his name they can pump up enthusiasm enough to carry majorities in the Electoral Colleges and Congress, Stevens, Sumner and the negroes will rule the country four years longer, and Grant will have their full permission to smoke and talk horse throughout his term.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

SOLD.—A rich old widower in Canada is said to have practiced a very artful scheme to gain the hand of the belle of the village. He got an old gipsy to tell the young lady's fortune in the words which he dictated as follows:

"My dear young lady, your star will soon be hid for a short time by a very dark cloud, but when it re-appears it will continue to shine with uninterrupted splendor until the end of your days. Before one week a wealthy old widower, wearing a suit of black and a fine castor hat, will pay you a visit and request your hand in marriage. You will accept his offer, become his wife, and be left a widow, in posession of all his property, before the close of the year. The next husband will be the young man of whom you think most at present."

Three days after, the old gentleman, dressed in the manner described by the gipsy, presented himself to the young lady, and the marriage followed.—The year is more than out, but the tough old widower still lingers.

KEEPING UP MEADOWS.—A Wisconsin farmer was asked how he kept up his grass lands, selling the hay off year by year, as he did. His reply was, "I never allow the after-math to be cut." To this the Wisconsin Farmer adds: "If this rule was generally followed there would be less said about running out of grass fields or short crops of hay. Some farmers feed off every green thing and compel their cattle to pull up and gnaw off the roots of grass. Cutting rowen is certain death to hay crops. A farmer had better buy hay at forty dollars per ton than ruin his hay field by close grazing. The general treatment of grass lands in this respect is wrong and expensive, and should be abandoned as a matter of profit and economy."

—A man out West who offered bail for a friend was asked by a Judge if he had an incumbrance on his farm. "Oh, yes," said he, "my old woman."

THE HIGH COURT OF IMPEACHMENT.

After the usual proclamation of the Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Wilson offered further documentary evidence, among which was a copy of Stanton's commission from President Lincoln, under which only does he claim to hold his office. W. J. McDonald, the Chief Clerk of the Senate, was called and testified to having left certified copies of the action of the Senate on Stanton's removal at the Executive Mansion. Mr. John Jones testified to having delivered similar documents to General Thomas. C. E. Creecy took the stand to testify as to the difference between commissions issued before and after the passage of the tenure-of-office act, in order to show that the President acknowledged the validity of the act. Mr. Van Horn was examined as to what took place at the interview when General Thomas made the formal demand upon Stanton for possession of the War Office. In the cross examination Mr. Stanbery brought out the fact that the presence of Van Horn and other Congressmen on that occasion, was preconcerted, and not accidental. Mr. Moorehead was examined concerning the same interview. Mr. Burleigh was called and examined as to conversation between himself and General Thomas. Mr. Stanbery objected to the testimony, and the objection was sustained by the Chief Justice. Mr. Drake appealed from the decision. The Chief Justice ruled that he had the right to decide legal points. Mr. Butler combatted this view, saying that he did not consider the Chief Justice a member of the Court. The Chief Justice restated his position, that it was his duty to decide upon the admissibility of evidence, subject to the decision of the Senate. Mr. Bingham spoke briefly in opposition to the ruling. Boutwell also spoke. Mr. Evarts briefly replied. The question being put whether the Senate should retire for consultation, the vote stood ayes 25, nays 25. The Chief Justice then voted aye, and declared the motion carried. The Senate returned from their consultation at 6:20, and reported a rule sustaining the Chief Justice. The Court then adjourned.—Age.

THE CHARGE AND PROOF.

We charge that the Radical party is in favor of Negro Suffrage in the North, and support the charge with the following evidence:

The Radical States of New England now allow Negro Suffrage.

The Radicals last year attempted to introduce Negro Suffrage into Ohio.

They attempted to introduce it into Kansas.

They attempted to introduce it into Minnesota.

The Radical State Convention of New Jersey last year recommended Negro Suffrage in that State.

The Radical Legislature of Connecticut last year passed a proposition to amend the Constitution of the State so as to permit Negro Suffrage.

There is at present pending before the people of Michigan a Radical amendment to engraft Negro Suffrage upon the Constitution of the State.

There is a similar Radical amendment now pending before the people of Missouri.

The Radical Constitutional Convention of New York has submitted a like amendment to the people of that State.

Congress requires every Northern Territory applying for admission into the Union to present a Constitution allowing Negro Suffrage, before it is received into the family of States.

And last and least, three fourths of the Radical newspapers of this State advocate Negro Suffrage in Pennsylvania and throughout the North.

GIVING THE DEVIL HIS DUE.—There is a point in the following anecdote:—A parson was making a call upon an old lady, who made it an habitual rule never to speak ill of another, and had observed it so closely that she always justified those whom she had heard evil spoken of. Before the old lady made her appearance in the parlor, one of her daughters playfully said; "Mother has such a habit of speaking well of everybody, that I do believe if Satan himself was the subject of conversation, mother would find out some good quality or virtue even in him." Of course this remark elicited considerable smiling and merriment at the originality of the idea, in the midst of which the old lady entered the room, and on being told what had just been said, she immediately and involuntarily replied: "Well, my children, I wish we had Satan's industry and perseverance!"

THE Cheyenne Argus says the abandonment of the Powder river forts is a game in which the Sioux Indians have baffled Uncle Sam, and that it tells the people of the frontier that their only protection is in their own stout hearts and American rifles. The Argus advocates the raising of scalp money. It says: "A good premium in fresh scalps, with what plunder can be obtained in horses, furs and buffalo robes, will soon place enough of the right sort of men in the field, and send the Indians to other hunting grounds."

—A person being asked why he had given his daughter in marriage to a man with whom he was at enmity, answered, "I did it out of pure revenge."

—Which are the best kind of agricultural fairs? Farmer's daughters.

THE TWO MERCHANTS.—When trade grew slack and notes fell due, the merchant's face grew long and blue; his dreams were troubled through the night with Sheriff's bailiffs all in sight. At last his wife unto him said, "Rise up at once, and get out of bed, and get your pen, ink and paper, and say these words unto all men:

"My goods I wish to sell you, and to your wives and daughters too; my prices they are so low, that each will buy before they go."

He did as his good wife advised, and in the paper advertised. Crowds came and bought of all he had; his notes were paid, his dreams made glad, and he will tell you to this day, how well did printer's ink repay.

He told us this, with a knowing wink, how he was saved by printer's ink.

The other in a place as tight, contented was the press to slight, and did not let the people know of what he had or where to go.

His drafts fell due and were not paid; a levy on his goods was made; the store was closed until the sale, and for some time he was in jail. A bankrupt now without a cent, at leisure he does deep repent, that very foolish and unwise, he did not freely advertise.

SWEET CORN.—It is surprising fact that sweet corn is not abundantly grown among farmers. Every farmer thinks he must raise his five or ten acres of Indian corn every year, in order to fatten his pork, and to furnish fodder for his stock, &c. Now, if every farmer would grow three or five acres of sweet corn, his crop would prove of much more value in proportion to the number of acres of Indian corn for feeding purposes. Last spring I planted six acres of sweet corn for the purpose of taking it into market green. But, after the market became "glutted," I concluded to save the balance of my corn and cure it to feed. I cut and fed my hogs corn (in the stalks) every day, and they would eat stalks and all as clean they would green clover. I would recommend it to those that sow corn in preference to any other,

Be careful to trace up your seed in the fall, and then you will not fail to have good seed when you come to plant or sow.—Selected.

FLOUR MAKING.—The question how much wheat does it take to make a barrel of flour is often asked, and the answer is of general character, "five bushels are allowed." At the annual fair of the Dubuque county (Iowa) Agricultnre Society, in 1867, a premium of three dollars was offered for the best barrel of flour made from winter wheat, and also the same made from spring wheat. A firm entered one barrel each, accompanied with the statement that sixteen bushels of winter wheat yielded three barrels and one hundred and three pounds of flour at the rate of four bushels and fifteen pounds of wheat to the barrel. Of spring wheat, fifty bushels yielded eleven barrels of flour, being four bushels and thirty-two pounds to the barrel. The wheat was fair quality and no more.

—Liberia is agitated by the suffrage question. At present, only those possessing a very visible admixture of African blood, are admitted to citizenship; but a party has lately arrived which proposes, as a measure of justice, to enlarge the area of freedom by enfranchising the down-trodden white trash. The conservatives strongly oppose so flagrant a departure from the ancient landmarks of the Constitution, and contend that there is no safety, socially or politically, except in maintaining the republic as it was made by its founders—strictly a negro government.

—The guard of soldiers at the public soup-house in Richmond, have had to use their sabres in keeping order among the crowd of negroes who would not obey regulations. The negroes were demonstrative, but the guard charged them with drawn swords, and used the flat side promiscuously in dispersing the hungry malcontents. About 1,400 family rations per week are issued from the soup-house.

—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says the act of Mr. Stanton in sending a telegram to Gen. Sickles, congratulating him on the result of the New Hampshire election, is perfectly consistent with the want of dignity and delicacy that attaches to him. It is the first time in the history of the government that the head of the War Office has complimented an army officer for neglecting his duty to make political harangues.

—The Ohio Senate on Tuesday passed the bill to suppress prize fighting, as it previously passed the House of Representatives, it is now a law. Under its provisions, the principal performers in a prize fight are punishable by imprisonment in the Penitentiary, and spectators are liable to fine and imprisonment in jail.

An afflicted husband was returning from the funeral of his wife, when a friend asked him how he was.

"Well," said he pathetically, "I feel the better for that little walk."

—The axe factory of D. Blake & Co., at Scranton, Pa., has been destroyed by fire. Loss $30,000, insurance $16,000.

"Light, more light!" is the startling cry of the honest people groping in the darkness of Radicalism. "Light, more light!" shouts the groaning taxpayer, bending under the load which a Radical Congress has heaped upon him. "Light, more light!" is the pleading cry that comes to us from those who earnestly seek a remedy for the disease that is tugging at the vitals of the nation. Look and ye shall see! Read and ye shall know! Not only should every Democrat have his county newspaper, during the coming campaign, but he should likewise make it a point to furnish his Republican neighbor a copy. This is the plan upon which our opponents have acted for years, and it is about time that Democrats do something of the same sort. NOW, GO TO WORK and put your Democratic newspaper into the hands of every Republican who will read. If you will do this you will accomplish more good in six months than you will by any other means in six years. Democratic politicians, throughout the county, are enabled, by the above low terms, to circulate Democratic newspapers at a very small cost. We appeal to them to see to getting up clubs, and to see to it in time. Now is the time to sow the seed. After a little while the heat of passion and prejudice will beam upon the public mind in all its intense fierceness, and then seed-time will have passed. Friends, let us hear from you!

A BLOW AT THE FOREIGN-BORN CITIZENS AND THE LABORING CLASSES.

The Legislature passed a registry law, the other day, which is directed generally against the liberties of the citizens of the Commonwealth, but more especially against the rights and privileges of those of foreign birth. It puts the decision as to the right of a man to vote, almost exclusively into the hands of the Assessor. That officer is required to register only such as he knows to be voters; those whom he does not know to be voters, must call upon him in person, if they desire to be registered. This makes it necessary for many people to lose two days instead of one, in order to exercise the privilege of voting. It will be seen that this stroke is leveled at the laboring classes, many of whom, it is fondly hoped by the Radical authors of this law, will not be able to lose the time which it will require to call upon the Assessor and obtain registration. This act also requires that naturalized citizens shall exhibit certificates of naturalization to the Assessor, before their names shall be put upon the registry. No matter how long a foreign-born citizen may have been a voter, he must present a certificate of naturalization to the Assessor, or he will not be registered as a voter! This requires the foreign-born voter to wait upon the Assessor in person, if he desires to retain the privilege of voting. Was there ever devised a more infamous trick to rob citizens of their dearest rights? Know Nothingism, in its most riotous days, conceived of nothing half so mean and dastard. Let press and people take up the cry and denounce this infamous law, until it shall stink like the carrion that it is, in the nostrils of the very men who enacted it.

THE ALABAMA OUTRAGE.

The Rump Congress, having kept Alabama out of the Union for nearly three years after she acknowledged herself to be in, and avowed her desire to remain in the Union, in order to humiliate and disgrace the white people of that State, are about to drag her in black end foremost! Under its Reconstruction policy the Rump gave Alabama an "opportunity" to form a Constitution. That is to say, there was a registration of voters by which every negro in the State, no matter how illiterate, was permitted to vote for members of the Convention which was to form the Constitution, whilst large numbers of whites were disfranchised by the refusal of the Rump Registrars to put their names upon their lists. By this infernal fraud, it was hoped that such a Convention would be elected, as would do the bidding of the miserable crew who expected to get into power under the Rump reconstruction. And this expectation was fulfilled. The Convention was composed, largely, of negroes, fresh from the rice field and the cotton plantation, controlled de by a few designing adventurers from the Northern states, and a half dozen miserable Southern renegades. The instrument framed by them, which they dignified with the name of "Constitution of the State of Alabama," is entirely worthy of such a body. It disfranchises all who do not vote for its adoption (there is freedom for you with a vengeance); it disfranchises all who are disfranchised by the Reconstruction acts; it permits every negro in the State to vote and any negro to hold office; it allows intermarriage of whites and blacks; it authorizes mixed schools of white and black children, and disallows separate schools to be established for the two races; it prohibits railroad companies from separating black from white passengers, and establishes the most terrible and revolting test oath. This "Constitution" was submitted to the people of Alabama, some time ago, according to the provisions of the Reconstruction Acts, which specify that if a majority of the registered voters of the State shall vote upon the Constitution, and if a majority of that majority cast their ballots in favor of the Constitution, then the Constitution shall be considered adopted, and the State entitled to representation in Congress. Now, mark, the Reconstruction Acts require that a majority of the registered voters of the State must vote, one way or the other, upon the Constitution; if such majority do not vote, then the Constitution must be considered rejected. In the case of Alabama, the white people, being almost to a man opposed to the infamous "Constitution" submitted for their approval, or rejection, did not vote, and the result was that a majority of the registered voters of the State was not polled, and the Negro "Constitution" was defeated. Now, notwithstanding this decision of the registered voters of Alabama, the Rump Congress declares this Negro Constitution to have been adopted and is about to turn over into the hands of the ignorant blacks and devilish whites elected to office under this Constitution, the government of the State of Alabama. A bill for this purpose has already passed the national House of Representatives. This, too, is being done against the advice of Gen. Meade, the satrap of the Alabama district, who certifies the defeat of the "Constitution." If such rascality does not open the eyes of the Northern people, they must be blind indeed.

"THE SWAG-BELLIED DUTCH!"

Emulous of the infamy of John Hickman, who, the other day, in the House of Representatives, poured out his superfluous bile upon the devoted heads of the Irish Catholics, Mr. Senator Fisher, of Lancaster, he of the unkempt locks and rum-blossomed nose, regaled the Senate with a string of whisky-inspired anathemas against the foreign-born citizens of Pennsylvania. He spoke of them as "ignorant, bog-trotting Irishmen," and "swag-bellied, lager beer Dutchmen." Senator Landon, of Bradford, another representative of the Radical party, declared that the negro "is better entitled to the elective franchise than the Irishman."

Germans, Irishmen, foreign-born citizens! Do you not see the malice these men bear toward you? Must you be told that they seek to disfranchise you, as they have already disfranchised the white people of the South? The infamous Registry Law which has just been passed, is intended to rob you of your rights. Organize! Bring your friends forward and have them naturalized! Look up your naturalization papers, for you will need them. If you have lost them, apply at once to the Clerk of the Courts of the county in which you were naturalized, for a certified copy. Do this at once, so that you will be ready in time. Your liberty is at stake and if you would preserve it, you must bestir yourselves. There are tens of thousands of foreigners, among our very best people, many of whom served in the army of the Union, who are not naturalized. Democrats everywhere should look into this matter and see that such persons receive the proper papers. There will be but two sessions of Court between this time and the election, and those desiring to be naturalized should attend to the matter at once.

VETO OF THE FREE RAILROAD LAW.

Geary Goes Back On His Pledges.

Governor Geary has vetoed the "Free Railroad Law," recently passed by the Legislature, on the ground that it would give railroad companies too large privileges, and on the additional ground that the title of the bill did not cover the subject matter. The latter is a mere technicality. The former is exactly what the people not interested in the great railroad monopolies of the State, desired. No, not "too large privileges," but as large privileges as it is in the power of the Legislature to grant. The fact is, that too large privileges cannot be granted to those who wish to build railroads under the proposed Free Railroad Law. Hence, the reasons given by Geary for his veto, are entirely insufficient. We have no doubt he had weightier reasons for his action than those he gives in his veto message. He was pledged to sign a fair Free Railroad Bill, but it is evident that he will give his approval to none that will be of any account to the people.

A GROSS INSULT TO THE IRISH CATHOLICS.

In the debate on the Registry Law, in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, on the second inst., Mr. Hickman, of Chester, used the following language:

"The whole foreign Irish Catholic vote had always been cast in downright, absolute ignorance of our institutions. * * * Take an ignorant Irishman, just landed, who swears to support the Constitution, he is allowed to vote because he so swears to support the Constitution, when he can't read the Constitution, not even the New Testament. * * * If the Legislature had adopted his amendment to the Constitution, no one could have voted, had he not been able to read the Constitution, and that would have excluded one half of the Democratic voters; then, the negroes would have been admitted, and they would have counterbalanced the remainder of the Democratic voters."

Mr. Hickman desires the exclusion of the foreign born white citizens from the privilege of voting, and wants the Negroes to take their place at the ballot-box. He says, the Negroes can read, but the Irish Catholics cannot!

Thus are the foreign born citizens of Pennsylvania insulted by the Radical leader in the Legislature. Shame! Shame!

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

Gen. Grant and Impeachment; A Political Strengthening Plaster; Presidential Authority for Forming Military Divisions, &c; Dullness of Business, &c.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The double-leaded editorial in to-day's Tribune announcing that Gen. Grant does not think it inconsistent with his duties as a soldier to make it known that the President should be removed, and that the impeachment should succeed, etc.; has caused considerable comment here to-night. General Grant's friends say there is no authority for the Tribune's statement, and that General Grant has not made known to any one his views of the impeachment trial. It is the general belief here that the object of the Tribune's editorial was to strengthen certain radical Senators whom the original impeachers designate as "weak-kneed;" in other words, Senators who refuse to commit themselves in advance to a verdict in the impeachment trial.

Assistant Adjutant General Townsend has prepared a statement of all the military divisions and departments formed during the past fifty years, showing that the same were formed by order of the several Presidents. This account is prepared at the request of the Executive, to be included in his response to the Senate resolution of inquiry by what authority the President directed the establishment of the Division of the Atlantic.

Almost all classes of business in this city are exceedingly dull, and especially is the stagnation observable in official departments. The only feature that arrests attention is the impeachment trial. Very few strangers have visited Washington during the past week. DATA.

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, April 4, 1 30 p. m.—The Senate was one hour this morning discussing the expediency of abolishing the ticket system. At noon the Senate resolved itself into a court.

When the House was announced barely eighteen members entered the Senate chamber. Yet public business must stand still for that number to witness impeachment.

Reporter Walbridge testified in relating to the speeches and the incidents during the President's stay at St. Louis.

Reporter Dean was next examined.

Nothing new was elicited from the testimony of these two witnesses.

There is not a particle of legal force in their testimony, and not anything that will tend towards conviction.

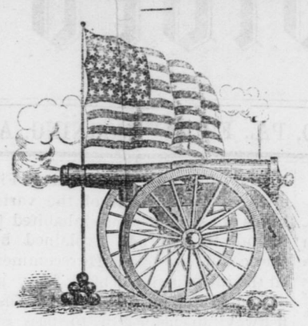
The Impeachment Farce.

WASHINGTON, April 6, 2 30 p. m.—Much chag in exists among the Radicals. Since Saturday, the failure of Butler to make out a case against the President has been a subject of general congratulation everywhere outside of the friends of the Rump. Some blame Butler, others condemn the witnesses.

Candid observers and thinkers agree that the impeachment was a stupendous mistake. The Radicals still insist that the President must be convicted. They say that their party cannot afford to fail. To fail would be irredeemable ruin.

The Senate to-day passed several private bills. They are now discussing the Naval Appropriation bill. The House is not in session.

All Hail, Connecticut!



The Spring Gales Blowing!

THE LAND OF STEADY HABITS RAISES THE SLOGAN!

THE DEMOCRATS CARRY CONNECTICUT BY 2,000 MAJORITY!

A GAIN OF 1,100, SINCE LAST YEAR!

Sound the loud Timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea!
Democracy Triumphs, America's Free!

THREE TIMES THREE AND A TIGER, FOR BULLY CONNECTICUT!

The election for Governor and other State officers, took place in Connecticut on Monday last and resulted in the election of the whole Democratic State Ticket by 2,000 majority—a gain of 1,100 since last year. This is glory enough for one day. This starts the Presidential ball right and insures the defeat of Useless Grant. The following dispatch tells the tale:

HARRISBURG, April 6, 9 p. m.

To B. F. MEYERS:—Gallagher telegraphs me that English (Dem.) is re-elected Governor of Connecticut by 2,000 majority. W.

MORE THUNDER!

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 5.—The minicipal election in this city yesterday resulted in the election of the Democratic ticket, by 2,700 majority. The Democrats carry the county by 3,700!

[Special to the Bedford Gazette].

NEW YORK, APRIL 7—3 p. m.—Connecticut elects Democratic Governor by 1,600 to 1,800. Large gain and great Democratic triumph. Michigan has defeated Negro suffrage by a large majority. At the Cincinnati municipal election yesterday, the Democrats gained 5,000 on the vote of last fall. C.

Impeachment: A Court or a Caucus; Law or Prejudice.

[From the New York Herald.]

The hero of Big Bethel held forth before the Senate on Monday for four hours, rendering a rigmarole of his opinions. is opinions on this occasion were about on a par with his justly celebrated opinion that Fort Fisher could not be taken—an opinion which it will be remembered, he was engaged in elaborately laying down before a committee at Washington when he was interrupted in his speaking by the sound of the cannon firing salutes to celebrate the capture of that fort. Nearly one-quarter of this rigmarole is taken up with the working out of Butler's great idea that the Court of Impeachment is not a court—that it is a commission or an inquest, or a caucus or some other undefined sort of assemblage—anything or everything that anybody may choose, but not a court. And what is the reason of all this special pleading on this head? It is that the Radicals do not want to try the case in accordance with the established rules of law. If the body trying impeachment is a court, its process must be what Blackstone says impeachment is—"a prosecution of the already known and established law." It must proceed according to law, and, more than all, must accept the law from the presiding judge. Hence all Butler's chop logic to prove that the court is not a court. He and his party fear to try their case under the law, and have no other hope but in passion and prejudice.

Let the people keep in view the great fact that there is no safety save in the law. If a man is not willing to be governed by the law it is because he is not willing to be governed at all; it is because, not perceiving the immediate protection that the law would guarantee for his own rights, he wishes to throw down the barrier it sets up to guard the rights of others from his assault. Our personal liberties have no limits set in theory, but we find in practice that they stop where the rights of others begin, and it is the province of the law to define the line. The law is the rule of action which leaves the greatest freedom to each that is consistent with the safety of all; and when men wish deliberately to act by some other rule, it is that their devotion to some idea or the interests of some person or class incapacitates them from surveying calmly the relations of that class to the whole. So it has been with fanatics always. So it is with the lunatic who finds himself so at variance with the thoughts of those around him that he cannot govern his conduct by their standards, but holds the law to be ridiculous and nonsensical. Men always pretend to be governed by motives higher than the view of the law, and it is the evil to society that it sometimes listens to this dangerous heresy. Fanatics have gone so far in their objections to the law that they have regarded it as the essence of all injustice and its protection of property as theft—the thief who keeps himself being the only honest man.

Butler and his fellow zealots have a similar idea of law, and spurn it as a rule on which to carry forward their case. They would substitute their opinions in its place. Hence their definition of impeachment is, read fully, somewhat different from what Butler read it to the Senate. It should read thus: "we define an impeachable high crime or misdemeanor to be one in its nature or consequences subversive of some principle of government that we believe in—like nigger suffrage—or highly prejudicial to the public interest, as we understand it; and this may consist of a violation of the Constitution or law, or what we consider such by an act committed, or omitted, or without violating a positive law, by the abuse of discretionary powers, or what we, in the free exercise of our opinions regard as such an abuse." This definition gives the sentiment of the prosecution more clearly than Butler did, and shows also how well the wise men who made the constitution understood what impeachment might finally come to. Mr. Gouverneur Morris said to the convention: "Much has been said of the intrigues that will be practised by the Executive to get into office. Nothing has been said on the other side of the intrigues to get him out of office." Charles Coltsworth Pinckney said: "If he opposes a favorite law the two houses will combine against him, and under the influence of heat and faction throw him out of office."

HIGH COURT OF IMPEACHMENT.

When the minutes of the last day of trial were read, Mr. Sumner made a motion to correct the journal by inserting the expression of the Senate's opinion that the vote of the Chief Justice was unauthorized and of no effect. On this motion he demanded the yeas and nays, which were taken, and resulted—yeas 21, nays 27. So the motion was not agreed to. The question as to the admissibility of Mr. Burleigh's testimony about a conversation between himself and General Thomas, was submitted to the Senate by the Chief Justice. Before a vote was taken, Mr. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, inquired whether the managers intended to connect the testimony of the witness with the respondent. Mr. Butler said they proposed to do so. Mr. Stanbery then rose and made a lengthy argument, showing that the declarations of General Thomas ought not to be used against the President. Mr. Butler replied, and Mr. Curtis rejoined. The Senate then decided, by a vote of 39 to 11, to admit Mr. Burleigh's testimony. His testimony was to prove that Thomas intended to use force to eject Stanton, and that he tried to seduce clerks in the War Office by promises of what he would do for them when he became Secretary.

GRANT AND THE HEBREWS.—The Meadville Hebrew Society, at a regular meeting on the 1st of March, after electing officers, passed the following resolution which was ordered to be published in the Cincinnati Israelite, in which journal we find it:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Meadville Hebrew Society, fully indorse and approve of the editorial in the Israelite of February 28, 'concerning the infamous order, No. 11, of General Grant whilst in command of the Department of Tennessee, and that we pledge ourselves not to vote for General Grant as President of the United States, should he secure he nomination of either or any party, and we will use all honorable means to defeat him for that high an distinguished office. SAMUEL MAYER, Secretary.

—The Chicago Journal has received reports from Southwest and Central Illinois, which are, almost without exception, that the winter wheat has passed through the cold weather successfully and, promises an unprecedented harvest. The farmers all over the West are taking advantage of the unusually early opening of the season to sow their grain. If the summer will be anything like as favorable for the farmers as the spring, the Southwest will astonish the world with the extent of its crop this year.

—Thomas Hanlon, one of the Hanlon brothers, gymnasts, was arrested at Harrisburg, yesterday morning, for drunkenness, but was found to be insane, and discharged. Shortly afterwards he was again arrested for attempting to murder three boys accompanying him, and was placed in the county prison, where in the afternoon he attempted to commit suicide by striking his head violently and repeatedly against an iron pipe in his cell. Six men were required to secure him, when he was bound down and his wounds dressed.

—Senator Wilson said, at Northwick, "that the Radical party had lifted the country a thousand leagues nearer towards the heavens." There is no doubt of the lifting part, but some doubt as to the point to which we are said to have been lifted. They have lifted the Constitution from its base—lifted everything in the shape of movables—lifted everything like honesty and fair dealing from the minds of men, and lifted gold so high that it is entirely beyond the reach of most men; and it is to be hoped that the next thing they lift will be themselves from power.—Evening Herald.

CIRCUS COMING.—Thayer and Noyes' great Circus and Menagerie will exhibit at this place, on Saturday, 18th inst. We have always found the proprietors of this circus and all connected with it, to be gentlemen. They will exhibit at Bloody Run, on Friday, 17th.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.—There will be service and preaching at the Court House, on Good Friday morning, at half past ten o'clock. Also the usual morning and evening services on Easter Sunday and a Sabbath School Easter Service in the afternoon, at half past three o'clock.

FASHION'S PLATFORM.—One perfume, pure, refreshing and imperishable, and that perfume Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus." This is the platform of Fashion on this side of the Atlantic, and all the people say amen! —Jersey City Times.

SEVENTEEN YEAR LOCUSTS.—This is the year for the re-appearance of the seventeen year locusts. These insects made their first chronicled appearance here in 1799, and returned every seventeen years after that time. They last appeared in 1851, of which many of our readers doubtless have a distinct recollection.

THE fruit prospects this year are of average promise. There is likely to be plenty of apples, but there will be something of a scarcity in the peach line. Peach growers tell us that the hard winter has been severe on the buds. We apprehend, nevertheless, that nobody will suffer.

THE WHEAT CROP.—From present indications, the next wheat crop will be a good one in this county. Farmers in different sections agree in stating that it stood the winter very well; that the large amount of snow which fell and remained for a long time on the ground protected the young plants, and prevented them from freezing out.

THE SUCCESS, DR. BEAMER & Co. have had in healing Chronic and Female diseases by their Algerian Remidies throughout the United States and Europe is unsurpassed. They are on a visit to this place from April 6th, to 13th, to receive patients and introduce their art of healing. They will read your disease free, and remove acute pain free of charge.

A SURE THING.—People may talk as they please, think and act as they please, and entertain contrary opinions on any subject; but there is one on which all agree, and that is, that R. W. Berkstresser & Co. keep always on hand the best assortment of ready-made Clothing, and sell at the very lowest cash prices. Call and see for yourselves.

ADDITIONAL LAW JUDGE.—We have neglected to state that the legislature have passed a bill authorizing an additional Law Judge for this Judicial District, and that Gov. Geary has appointed D. Watson Rowe, Esq., of Chambersburg to fill the position until the next election. Judge Rowe is at present holding his first Court, that for Fulton county.

SNOW.—On Tuesday morning last, a heavy snow began to fall and at the present writing the weather is quite wintry. This is doubtless a robin snow; at any rate it robs spring of some of the days that of right belong to her. Jam satis terris nivis atque dirae, grandinis misit Pater, etc. In other words, Winter, we have had enough of you for the present.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.—The firm of Irvine and Statler having been dissolved, the business will be continued by H. F. Irvine, at the old stand. Boots and Shoes, cheaper and better than ever, Queensware, Glassware, Fancy Goods, Perfumery, etc., etc., always on hand. The new Dickens Collar, the latest agony, and so perfect an imitation of linen that the closest inspection will barely detect the difference, for sale by H. F. Irvine at the old Regulator. Now is the time to buy. Come and see the stock.

THERE are two special qualities which determine and fix the superiority of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S new style improved hair restorer or dressing, in one bottle, over all other preparations for the hair. First, the prompt, quick action, great growth, life and vigor that it is sure to give to the hair, never failing, by a few applications, to restore Grey or white Hair to its natural color, imparting to the Hair a Delightful aroma, fresh, delicate, and unchangeable in any climate. Second, its easy application without any previous preparation of the Hair; without that sticky and disagreeable sulphur odor found and complained of in all other preparations. It never soils the skin or linen. Ladies will find it a standard Toilet luxury to dress their Hair; it retains the Hair in any desired position, and is cooling, healing, and cleansing to the Scalp, removing immediately all scurf, dandruff, and pimples. Price one dollar. Sold by all druggists.

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—A dangerous counterfeit five dollar national bank bill is said to be in extensive circulation. The bills are well executed—the "landing of Columbus" on the back particularly. The principle point of difference between the genuine and the counterfeit is this: the "T" in the sentence "This note is secured," &.,c at the head of the bill, covers the "ni" in "United States," while in the genuine it comes over the uper left hand corner. By this difference the counterfeit can be easily detected.

SHADE TREES.—There is nothing that our citizens should feel greater pride in than having our streets adorned with shade and ornamental trees, and their lots and yards with choice fruit trees, which in a year or two will commence to yield and repay them ten fold for the outlay. The old assertion that in business streets shade trees are an impediment, is fallacious. A beautiful tree is certainly much cooler and more convenient than an unsightly awning. Those who have not their property thus adorned, should take immediate steps to plant.

MORTGAGE BILL AMENDED.—In the State Legislature, on Tuesday evening of last week, on motion of Mr. M'Miller, the vote on the final passage of the bill exempting mortgages and other monied securities from local taxation was reconsidered; and the bill was amended by including the counties of Montgomery, Berks, Schuylkill, Chester, Lancaster, Elk, Forrest, Fulton, BEDFORD, Indiana, Huntingdon, Northampton, Northumberland, Crawford, Clinton, Carbon, Monroe, Luzerne, Juniata, Mifflin, Somerset, Westmoreland, Clearfield, Allegheny, York, Delaware, Blair, Lebanon, Greene, Franklin, Perry and Cumberland, and again passed finally as amended.

EARLY TOMATOES.—To have tomatoes early, plant a few seeds, any time this month, in the pots in which the plants are growing in the kitchen window. They will so germinate and grow very rapidly, and when the plants are two or three inches high, set one of each in boxes three inches square, or very small flower pots, and give them the same attention the house plants receive. As soon as all danger from frost is over, transfer the tomato plants which will then be budded, and perhaps covered with miniature fruit, to the smooth side of a high fence or sunny side of a building, into not over rich soil, and you will have ripe tomatoes on the fourth of July, if past experience and a favorable season are worth any thing. Try it.

CAUTION TO PERSONS HOARDING COIN.—We commend the following to the careful consideration of all persons in the habit of hoarding coin. We hear of many persons who, as soon as they receive a few of the new five cent pieces now beginning to circulate through the country, as well as the pennies, hoard them away, instead of allowing them to circulate for the benefit of the business community. In view of the sad effects that may result from this habit, persons had better reflect on the following:

Very singular and dangerous.—We copy the following remarkable accident from a Southern paper:—Near the town of Smithville, in the State of Mississippi, there was a violent thunderstorm passed over that section lately. Two houses in the country were struck by lightning, very much damaged, but fortunately no person was killed. What seemed strange was that one house had a good lightning rod on it, and the other had none; but in the central part of each house was a bureau, which in each case was torn to atoms, and the clothing in it set on fire. Upon a thorough examination of the ruins it was found that the people had a large number of the new nickle or zinc five cent pieces with a number of coppers, saved up and hid in one of the drawers of the bureau; and as it is known to all that zinc and copper are the metals with which electricity is generated, it is supposed by scientific men that having them lying together in the drawer generated a stream of electricity, which became a powerful conductor of the outside current, and invited the disaster. If such things happen, it would not be wise in persons keeping many of the new five cent pieces on hand, especially if mixed with coppers.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENTS.—We have placed our books and accounts in the hands of John P. Reed, Esq., of this place, for collection. All accounts for subscription for the year ending August 1, 1868, remaining unpaid, are included in the bills which Mr. Reed is authorized to collect. We have been compelled to resort to this course in order to obtain a settlement of our accounts. We have too much to do to attend to making out bills, and we are tired of dunning. Money we must have, as we have many debts to pay, and we desire to act honestly with our creditors. Therefore, we ask all to pay Mr. Reed, who can, and those who cannot, we ask to call and settle. If there is any thing in their accounts by which they consider themselves aggrieved, let them call on us, and we will make all right that is not right. Friends, let us have the old scores wiped out, and begin anew.

NEW PRESS!—FANCY JOB PRINTING!—Printing in Colors!—Cards, Billheads, Notes, Bank Checks, Blanks of all kinds, &c., &c.—We have just had set up in our office, one of the latest improved Gorden's Fast Job Presses, and have, also, purchased a new assortment of Fancy Job Type. Thus prepared, we are now able to do all kinds of Job Work, from the daintiest card to the most showy poster. These improvements have cost us considerable outlay, and we now say to our friends and the public, generally, bring on your work, if you appreciate enterprise! We can do any kind of work done in the city offices and just as cheap as city printers do it. Horse-bills printed in all styles. Call at the GAZETTE office, and see our improvements;

—The Supreme Court has decided that deposits made in savings banks may be lawfully subjected to local taxation, even when those deposits have been invested and are held in the form of Government securities.

If anything looks more dirty and disgusting than a coat covered with dandruff, it is certainly not known to modern society. "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" will effectually eradicate dandruff in a single thorough application. To this valuable preparation was awarded the only prize medal ever bestowed on any compound for the hair.—Poughkeepsie Press.

PROSPECTUS
"THE AGE."
A Democratic Daily and Weekly Journal in Philadelphia.
The attention of the Democrats and Conservative-citizens of the country is called to the Daily and Weekly issues of this widely circulated journal. The dissemination of sound political doctrines should command the earnest attention of every true friend of the Union and the Constitution. The events of the past political year are full of significance. The uprising of The People in opposition to the destructive policy of Radicalism, clearly shows that the masses are determined to restore again to power the great Democratic party, every page of whose history is filled with the glory and prosperity of our common country. No more effectual method for presenting the Truth can be devised, than in circulating Democratic journals. It is the intention of the Proprietors of The Age to make it, in every way worthy of the support and confidence that have heretofore been extended to it. Improvements are contemplated in every department, and no pains or expense will be spared to keep it in the front rank of American journalism.
The Daily Age contains the latest intelligence from all parts of the world, with articles on Government, Politics, Trade, Finance, and all the current questions of the day; Local Intelligence, Market Reports, Prices Current, Stock Quotation, Marine and Commercial Intelligence, Reports of Public Gatherings, Foreign and Domestic Correspondence Legal Reports, Book Notices, Theatrical Criticisms, Reviews of Literature, Art and Music, Agricultural Matters, and discussions of whatever subjects are of general interest and importance. Besides Special Telegrams, it has all the dispatches of the Associated Press from every part of the United States, and also the Associated Press dispatches received by the Atlantic Cable; and the news from all parts of Europe brought by the steamers, is instantly telegraphed from whatever point the steamer first touches.
The Weekly Age will be a complete compendium of the news of the week, and besides the leading editorials from the Daily, will contain a large amount of interesting matter prepared expressly for the weekly issue. It will be in all respects a first-class family journal, particularly adapted to the Politician, the Farmer, the Merchant, the Family Circle, and the General Reader, having, in fact, every characteristic of a live newspaper. At an early day will be begun an intensely interesting serial, by one of the most popular and fascinating authors, and it is also the intention to publish, from week to week, in the course of the year, three or four of the best and latest novels.
Terms of the Daily.—One copy, one year, $9.00; six months, $5.00; three months, $2.50; for any less period, at the rate of one Dollar per month. Payment required invariably in advance. Postage on the Daily, thirty cents per quarter, or one dollar and twenty cents per annum, to be prepaid at the office of delivery.
Terms of the Weekly.—One copy, one year, $2; five copies, one year, $9; ten copies one year, $17-50; twenty copies one year, $33. To clubs, where the papers are sent to one address, the following reduction will be made: Five copies, one year, $8.50, Ten copies, 1 year, $16.50; Twenty copies, one year, $30. A copy will be furnished gratis for each club of ten, or more, to one address, for one year. Payment required invariably in advance. Postage on the Weekly, five cents, per quarter, or twenty cents per annum, to be prepaid at the office of delivery
The above terms will be rigidly adhered to. Drafts on Philadelphia, or Postoffice Orders, payable to the order of the Publishers, being safer, are preferable to any other mode of remittance. All who send money by Express, must pre-pay Express charges. Specimen copies of the Daily and Weekly sent gratis, on application at this office. Advertisements inserted at moderate rates. Address WELSH & ROBB, 430 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. jan21w4.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS are still ahead of all competitors and stand unrivalled in POWER, PURITY OF TONE and BRILLIANCY, and all other points which go to make a first-class instrument.
The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on reed instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremolo in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.

The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—GEO. W. MORGAN. [The first Organist of America.
No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—WM. A. JOHNSON, Pipe Organ Builder.
Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class—GEO. JARDINE, Pipe Organ Builder.
The Cotttge Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. HEINTZ, Organist, Findlay, O.
I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—BISHOP SIMPSON.
We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—INDEPENDENT.
For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—METHODIST.
Persons wishing to purchase an organ are requested to examine the Estey instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Bedford, Pa. jul26,'67

MEDICAL.—DR. A. S. SMITH, having resumed the Practice of Medicine, solicits a generous share of the patronage of the community. Office in his residence, at St Clairsville.
He would call the attention of the public, and to those more immediately interested to the following: His health being too delicate to bear much of the fatigues and exposures consequent on general practice, he has adopted a speciality in the profession.
Soon after commencing practice, some twenty years since, he was attracted by the almost universality of female complaints, both in the married and single state. Partly from natural inclination, and in order to obtain success in practice, these complaints were made the subject of incessant study. These alterations, displacements and deranged functions of the organs peculiar to the female, are owing to that refined sense of delicacy on the part of the female, who, ignorant of the consequences, prefers to suffer in silence rather than expose her situation. Seldom cured by the general practitioner, who is prevented by this delicacy from acquiring by experience that tact and skill necessary to discriminate the exact change present, and contents himself with prescribing for the deranged functions, or overlooking the cause, simply for attendant nervous disorders, founding his prescriptions on a Plethoric Anaemonic state of the general system and the result is no benefit, as the number of the long suffering females bears ample testimony. Believing that he has, from long and special attention paid to them, acquired that skill in discriminating and experience in treating, he solicits the suffering to give him a call. No charges for consultation or examination. Visits made to all parts of the county. Applications for medicines can be made in writing by accompanying stamp for return letter.—Medicines sent when desired. TERMS invariably cash for all medicines and instruments.

CULVERWELL, M. D., Author of the "Green Book, &c.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of Self-Abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. 1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with consciencious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interst, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York
